We will always remember the sincere advice, understanding, and patience of all of our teachers.

To Miss Flemings

We, the class of nineteen hundred and fifty-one, dedicate this book in appreciation of all that she has done for us. She has been our class advisor for four years; and her patience, understanding, and guidance have helped us greatly in trying to obtain our goals. We shall always be grateful to her for her sincere efforts in our behalf.

Principal's Message

June is the month of Commencements. This year it brings special significance to you because you are included. Whether you have been successful in the program of education you have pursued during your years in high school depends upon the goal that you established for yourself.

The seeking of knowledge has always been the right of free man. Abraham Lincoln, through the ages, has been the great example of having risen from obscurity to fame.

The difference many times between success and failure is ambition. The degree of success you will achieve will depend greatly on how well you have striven to attain your goal.

The best wishes of your teachers and your principal go with you as you enter into the fields of your choosing.

One of the smallest members of our class, Joan has, nevertheless, shown herself very capable, especially in the fields of art and sports. Many of her drawings may be seen in this yearbook, and she has also helped us with dance decorations and programs. Joan is head cheerleader and, having been a member of the squad for two years, a veteran with the ability to handle such a position well. Her enthusiasm and good nature will carry her far.

One of our best athletes, Spencer is outstanding in every sport. His fine broken-field running on the gridiron, his uncanny ability to pull rebounds off the backboard, and his ability to stop hard grounders on the diamond make Spence an all-round sportsman. We were glad to have him return in his junior year, as he is a most likeable and popular classmate.

Al proved his popularity when voted president of the class and treasurer of the Varsity Club. He has been a mainstay on the first team in basketball and participated in intramural football. Without his untiring efforts in the solicitation of advertisements, we would not have been able to have such a large yearbook. Voted the best dressed, his stylish clothes are the cause of many exclamations of envy and admiration from his classmates. We wish Al success in his plans to attend college and major in law.

HELEN DIANE LEARY

"Diane"

"Getting some fun out of life"

Activities: Halloween Party 4; Yearbook Staff 4; Junior Prom 3; Christmas Pantomime 3; Sophomore Hop 2; Intramurals 1, 2, 3, 4; Clean-Up Day 2; Senior Reception 3; Sports Night 1, 2, 3, 4; Intramurals Officiating 3; Softball 2, 3, 4; Freshman Dance 1; Varsity 2, 3, 4; Glee Club 2, 4; Graduation 3; Typing Club 3.

Diane is an active participant in our school sports, having been on intramural, varsity basketball, and softball teams. Through these and her many other activities, she has shown her good sportsmanship and cooperativeness. Her warm smile and friendly ways have made her one of the most popular girls. We are confident that she will succeed in her future plans.

Phyllis' warm smile and helpful attitude make her a favorite with all of us. She is dependable and willing to assist in any way which she can. Being one of the most studious persons in our class, she is always able and willing to help someone else who has a problem. These qualities will be an invaluable asset in whatever field she chooses.

Virginia is one of the most versatile members of the class. Besides her proficiency in dancing—she originally planned to be a ballet teacher—in dramatics—she was the snooty Mrs. Allen in our play—and in sports—she is a guard on the first team varsity squad—, she has done very well scholastically. We are sure that she will go far in fulfilling her ambition to be a writer.

Pat's quiet dependability has always contributed to the success of our class projects, among others the preparation of this book. Although she seems to be a lady of few words, she really is lots of fun when one becomes better acquainted with her. All through her school years she has attained high scholastic honors in all of her subjects. We are sure that she will make her career, as a secretary, a success.

Jovial and happy-go-lucky, Marie is a friend among all of us. Her unpredictable moods are familiar to everyone; and she always adds a bright spot to our class activities. We all wish Marie the greatest success in the secretarial field, which she intends to enter.

THEODORE HERMAN NUSCHER

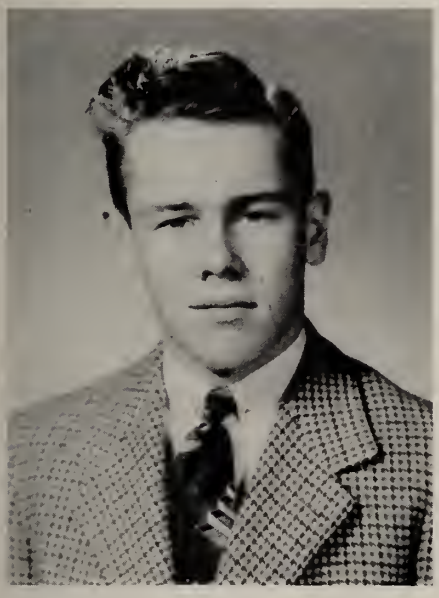
Ted, our handsomest boy, is sure to be a success in whatever he endeavors. His willing cooperation and friendliness make him one of the best-liked students of Sharon High. Assistant manager last year, Ted is now manager of the varsity baseball team.



GEORGE THOMAS O'DEA

"Geo."

Activities: Halloween Party 4; Yearbook Staff 4; Senior Play 4; Junior Prom 3; Christmas Pantomime 3; Sophomore Hop 2; Intramurals 1, 2, 3, 4; Clean-Up Day 2; Senior Reception 3; Sports Night 2, 3, 4; Intramurals Officiating 4; Amateur Night 2; Track Manager 1, 2, 3, 4; Freshman Dance 1; Glee Club 3; Graduation 2, 3; Varsity Club 2, 3, 4.

George, who is one of the most carefree boys in the senior class, is constantly coming up with some amusing remark. He does not have definite plans for his career, but he is thinking of joining the Navy or being an undertaker. Whatever profession he chooses, his sense of humor will always be a great asset.

Norma possesses abilities which are numerous and varied. Her talent for dramatics proved her deserving of the lead in the senior play, "Our Miss Brooks"; her skill in drawing has added distinction to this book in the form of all the hand lettering; her talent for playing the piano has helped to make many of our school projects a success. We are sure that she will go far in the field of her choice.

Carol, one of the most popular girls in the class, is known for her merry laugh, the mischievous twinkle in her eyes, and her humorous quips. Her contagious giggling fits have always amused us all. However, she also has a serious side, as we found in her splendid handling of the part of Rhonda Allen in the senior play. We are sure that her quick wit and dramatic ability will carry her far in the future.

BETTY JANE POIRIER

Betty's congenial personality and friendly smile have always been a source of pleasure to us. She has participated wholeheartedly in all our class activities, particularly this yearbook, to which she has unselfishly devoted a great deal of time as Business Manager. Her driving ability has been a constant joke because she was the first girl in the class to receive her license. We are sure she will find success in her chosen field.

After hearing Portia present her arguments in P. A. D., we know that she would be successful as a lawyer. Happy and likable, she has an endless store of humor and pep. As for her cheerleading ability—just watch her in action. These traits have won her many friends.

Through the years Norman, with his constant funny remarks, has been a source of entertainment to his many friends. Though a genuine "ham" at heart, his serious discussions in P.A.D. reveal another side of his personality. Norman's participation in all Sharon High sports shows his all-round athletic ability.

We never hear much from David, as he is one of the quieter members of our class; however, he has contributed much through his participation in our projects. His artistic talent in our yearbook was very welcome. He is also very active in the Boy Scouts and Four H Club. We wish him the best of luck in his career as a doctor.

On the serious side, he has been a member of the Student Council and the National Honor Society. His favorite pastime is playing the drums. We are sure Paul will go far in realizing his ambition in the study of medicine.

Marilyn's cheerful disposition has been an asset to our class. She is an enthusiastic worker and has taken an interest in many of our activities. She hopes to enter the field of business, a profession for which she is well fitted. The fact that she has been elected class secretary for the past three years proves that the class has confidence in her ability.

Dora, though one of the quieter members of our class, is always willing to pitch in and help. She is a good student and an excellent guard on the girls' varsity basketball team.

Her friendliness and sympathy show that she will make a fine nurse.

Duffy has always been willing to give the class a lift in any of our school projects. We deeply appreciate the tremendous job he has done as editor-in-chief of our yearbook staff. The fact that he was voted the most friendly boy in the senior class shows that he is a very likable person. Dependability, co-operation and initiative are three of the many qualities which will always be an asset to him.

The Will

We, the members of the graduating class of 1951, being of unsound mind, do hereby unanimously undertake to unload our unwanted and unique endowments upon the unseasoned underclassmen.

Know then, all men(?) that—

Jean Ballantyne leaves her never-ending supply of Wrigley's Spearmint to Grace Porter.

Judy Bradford leaves her Lux complexion. Wouldn't she look funny without it!

John Bright leaves his jacket with the classy figures to Bill Welch. Watch those numbers!

Martha Brown leaves her height to Nancy Guillet so she can see over the other cheerleaders at basketball games.

Priscilla Chaplin leaves her place on the basketball varsity to Betty Stressenger.

Joan Clark leaves Bob Browne, but not for long.

Bob Deltano leaves his various positions on the varsity squad to any underclassman who has the ability and wants to work.

John Eldracher leaves his perfect(?) attendance record to Albert Cole.

Marilyn Eldracher leaves her morning trips uptown to any lucky junior with study first period next year.

Joan Ellis leaves for a great mansion. You'd think she wanted to be a Butler!

Rikki Erkelens leaves his 1950 motorcycle plates to Dirk Wrightson. At least he has plates, now.

Spencer Hall leaves his ability to get in and out of scrapes to Jim Boyden, who, we hope, will do as well.

Barbro Isakson leaves with hopes of going to Sweden. Have a good trip.

Lola Jeffords leaves her cheerleading uniform to Barbara Dennett, so she can make good use of her vocal chords.

Al Kafka leaves his position as a "big boss" in P.A.D. to any junior who can get himself a secretary to take his notes. Nice system, isn't it, Al!

Diane Leary leaves her rides in the Lincoln to Margaret Knott, who also is partial to Lincolns.

Phyllis McDonald leaves her rides to all the out-of-town basketball games to next year's cheerleaders, so that they won't have to look for one.

Virginia Metcalf leaves her cheerleading, dancing, and basketball ability to Kathryn, so that she can follow in her sister's footsteps.

Patricia Murray leaves those tiresome trips on Bus #3 to any underclassman who is unfortunate enough to have to take them.

Charlie Niethold leaves his jar of apple polish to Eddie Furash. Keep it full.

Marie Niethold leaves her glass of milk at C.T.N. Club to Nita Reinhardt.

Ted Nuscher leaves his mathematical ability to Peter Huckins, who also has a good appreciation of figures.

George O'Dea leaves a pair of sneakers to Gigi White, who can never find his.

Norma Osborn leaves her various abilities at art, music, and writing to Janet Fleming to add to her already considerable supply.

Carol Palmer leaves her continual supply of candy to Charlotte McNair. Sweets to the sweet.

Betty Poirier leaves her driver's license and car to Louise McLean to take the girls to Club.

Portia Raider leaves her memory — She's always forgetting something.

Norman Robillard leaves his carefree manner to the hard-working juniors.

Leonard Sandhaus leaves his art ability to next year's art director for the yearbook. Here's hoping his complete committee will attend all yearbook meetings.

Bob Schwarzler leaves the carfare to Boston to Faith McCaffrey for Red Cross.

David Stickle leaves his quiet spot in the senior class to Joe Monahan.

Paul Vitali leaves his extensive vocabulary to Frank Brunetta so that he can throw away his pocket dictionary.

Marilyn Watterson leaves her seat near the radiator in English IV to any junior who is cold.

David Watts leaves his Dixieland rhythm to the Blue Notes to complete their repetoire.

Dora Weir leaves her calm and collected nature to Toni Butcher.

Duffy White leaves his editorship of the "Marsengold" to any junior who wants a headache.

To Miss Newton, we leave a book of quotations that don't imply.

We leave to Mr. Sloan a box of jumbo cigars for the time when his doctor tells him he can smoke only one a day.

To Miss Flemings, we leave a new staff of visual education operators in place of those she has lost.

To Miss Chase, we leave, for next year's senior play, a cast who learn all their lines in two weeks. Won't she be surprised?

We leave Mr. Kaufman, hoping he'll escape the call (guess which one) and be back next year.

To Mr. Laing, we leave a little book in which he can keep a record of all the percentages on next year's team. A pencil too?

To Mr. Davidson, we leave many grateful thanks for taking over at a difficult time and doing a nice job.

We leave Mr. Mahoney in the middle of the Pacific—on the way home, we hope.

We leave Mr. Conroy a lunchbox in which to put his daily thermos of coffee.

We leave Miss Johnston another class of seniors that get along as well as we have. At least they can try!

We leave Mrs. Higginson the picture of the Home Ec. classes so that she won't miss us next year.

We leave Mrs. Keyes new uniforms for the second team.

We leave Mr. Konsavage a team as good as this year's. We hope he can find one.

We leave Mr. Koskella a private telephone for arranging the sports schedules without interruptions next year.

We leave Mr. Clark a period completely free so that he can attend Mechanical Drawing every day.

To the juniors we leave the hope that they'll have as much fun as we did in our senior year.

We leave the sophomores a few athletes so that Alan can have some company.

To the freshmen we leave the senior seats at the basketball game so that nobody else can sit in them.

Our Miss Brooks

On the night of December 8, 1950, the senior class presented in the high school auditorium the very appropriate play, "Our Miss Brooks". Everyone connected with the success of the play was pleased that those in attendance enjoyed the performance so much. We wish to thank Miss Chase very sincerely for her patient assistance and capable direction.

Only five minutes more

Kiss me once, kiss me twice!

Feudin', fussin' and fightin'!

The last roundup.

Now is the hour.

Powder your face with sunshine.

When he's all dolled up.

Ain't she sweet!

Pennies from heaven.

Candy 'n cake.

Our Miss Brooks

Those lines are only in the play.

Don't mind us!

I'm glad I found out about you.

Your dress is inappropriate!

Anybody want a cake?

Miss Brooks!

It's a snowstorm!

What a rotten exhibition of favoritism!

I wonder why Miss Brooks didn't know

There isn't going to be a play.

My vase!

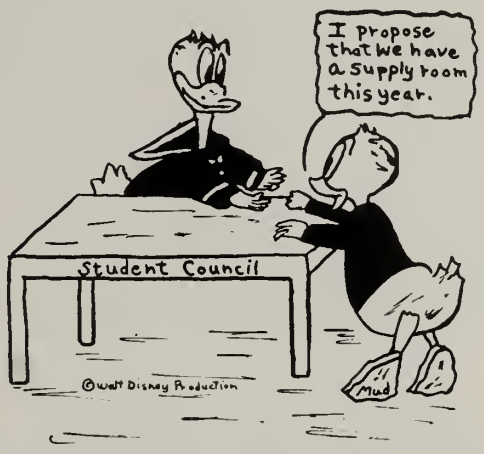
Honor Society

The National Honor Society was organized to urge the students of high schools to do their best in scholarship and in all other school activities. Our chapter is under the able leadership of Mr. Harold A. Clark, our principal. New members are selected every year from the senior and junior classes upon their completion of the fifth or seventh semester in their respective grades. The student who attains such recognition has shown himself superior in character, scholarship, leadership, and service and should be justly proud of his achievement.

The second-year members of Sharon's chapter are Paul Vitali and Howard White, who, together with Mr. Clark, conducted the induction ceremony February 15. The seniors who were elected this year are Lola Jeffords, Phyllis McDonald, and Patricia Murray; and the newly elected juniors are Joan Marshall and Faith McCaffrey. We regret that, because of illness, Faith, who was absent on the day of the induction, could not be included in the group picture.

Student Council



The Student Council, under the capable direction of Miss Burns, has done a remarkably fine job this year. In November the Council, as host to the Southeastern Branch of the Associated Bodies of Student Councils in Massachusetts, provided an excellent program for the thirty or more schools who attended. In addition to putting on this very successful convention, it has established a student supply room, conducted the weekly chapel services, continued to take charge of the monitor system, sold candy at the home basketball games, and sponsored many other worthwhile projects this year.

We are grateful for the interest displayed by its members and proud of its worthy contribution to the school.

Boys' Varsity Basketball

This year's team, up to this point, has had a very successful season, losing only two games out of eleven in the league. The boys have kept us continually excited with their fast passing, skillful shooting, and expert guarding. Although there are three more games to be played, we are confident that the boys will be victorious. A large part of their success is due to the able coaching of Mr. Konsavage.

As we go to press, the scores of the games thus far are as follows:

Girl's Varsity Basketball

Basketball is a favorite sport in Sharon High School among the girls as well as the boys. The team this year was very successful, not only because of their victorious games, but because of the development of a spirit of friendliness and sportsmanship. The players greatly appreciate Mrs. Keyes's able coaching.

Cheerleaders

The Cheerleaders this year, led by Joan Ellis and sponsored by Mrs. Keyes, really put their hearts into spurring on the team to victory. Those who were on the squad for the second year, in adddition to Joan, were Virginia Metcalf, Priscilla Chaplin, and Portia Raider. The first year girls were Betty Stressenger, Nancy Guillet, and Joan Marshall, with Lola Jeffords and Nita Reinhardt as alternates.

Through very hard work—at short notice—the cheerleaders, together with the girls' varsity, held a successful food sale and tea to raise money for new uniforms. The girls look very snappy in their maroon skirts and jackets with gold trim.

The pep and enthusiasm which they have displayed have added much to the excitement of every game.

Smooth Sailing, Class of '51!

Ever watch a sailboat fighting its way against the wind? Forward progress can only be made by tacking, sailing obliquely into the wind, first at one angle, then at a change of tack. But always forward!

Class of '51, you are ready to change your tack. The head winds are strong, but we know you'll take a new tack that will continue to carry you forward!
